To whom it may concern,

911 Innovation has successfully completed their mandate to manage the Certification requirements that lead our product Aromaestro to be officially Certified CE conformant.

Our product can now be launched and marketed in the European market.

The services provided by the 911 Innovation team, fulfilled all requirement in terms of creating the right package of internal components without sacrificing the aesthetics aspects of the whole assembly.

They understood our design needs, optimized the concept provided and then went beyond to assure the manufacturability of our product.

Everything was done in the time schedule.

It is a pleasure to work with a team that accord priority to understand the customer perspective.

We are glad to have 911 Innovation as a supplier and we truly appreciate their dedication, commitment, flexibility and understanding. They have a great set of people combined with solid expertise.
